Bleecker's time for the twenty-five miles was I hour 4 minutes 46 1-5 seconds. The time of last year's race was I hour 7 minutes 51 seconds. He started from the I-minute mark and finished in fifteenth place. This and the close finish of the first three men from the 2:30 mark showed good handicapping. Second time prize went to William Munro, who rode the distance in 1 hour 4 minutes and 48 seconds, and finished nineteenth. The winner of the handicap, Gillott, wou third time prize. The course was down the west path starting from opposite Fort Hamilton avenue and up the east path, with the lower turn at the Neck Road. This made a lap (down and up) of 8 1-3 miles and the racers covered the course three times. There was a brisk breeze facing the riders on the down trip. As fairly as ever such distinction was earned Major Taylor, the ebony-complexioned record breaker, vesterday won the title of quartermile champion of America on the four-lap board track at Vallsburg in the presence of the largest crowd of the season, about 7,000 persons. The contest was arranged so that it was practically a series of match races. There were six preliminary heats, and three semifinals preceding the final tussle. There were only two men in the heats, two in the semifinals and three in the final. The crack men were put against those considered poorer in the trial heats and this weeding-out process resulted in a group of stars for the semi-finals. Such riders as Freeman, Kimble, Newhouse, Collett, Tom Butler, Taylor, Fisher and Kramer were in the races for admission to the final, and they made fine sport in their separate duels. In the final Fisher got away in the lead with Kramer next and Taylor trailing. Taylor went out and got alongside Fisher in the backstretch, He was offered the pole but refused it. The hard work began at the turn with Kramer in the third place. Fisher was beaten at the head of the stretch, and Kramer did not have enough in him to overtake and pass the dusky whirlwind, although he made a strenuous effort. The negro never was headed and he won by a clean length. In the five-mile handicap the scratch men made a good showing for the first mile, and them, after catching the bunch immediately ahead of them, they began to loiter. The consequence was that the long-markers overtook them and they were lost. These were the two principal events of the aftrnoon. Summaries of all the races follow:

ISOLDE WINS A CLOSE RACE. BEATS THE ASTRILD BY 23 SECONDS AT LARCHMONT.

The Hanan Yacht Led All Over the Course

They were started at 1140 o'clock in a fresh south-westerly breeze. The first leg was a reach and as they came to the line big jibtopsails tack and the Astrild was a little ahead, but the Isolde had the weather position. Soon after crossing the line the Astrild seemed to draw ahead. Then the Isolde tried to Astrild turned the first mark in the lead, and it was a beat to the second mark off Hemp and at the second mark Astrild still led. The last leg was a broad reach with booms to starboard, and at the home mark at the end of the

she could not get far enough alread to win the race. She had to allow the Isolde 54 seconds, and on corrected time the Isolde won by 28 seconds.

There were flifty-four starters in the Fall regatta of the Larchmont Yacht Club and the breeze was all that a racing yachtsman could wish. As usual the starting signals were given on time and the yachts sent off on their respective Journeys in quick time. The big boats those above forty-three feet, sailed thirty miles; the next division sailed twenty-two miles and the small boats eleven miles. The preparatory signal was made at 11 30 o'clock and the yachts were sent off according to class. The schooners went on the first signal. The Wayward led with the Katrina second and Atlantic third. They carried light sails and soon frew clear of the line. The Atlantic raced against the Katrina and taking the lead before the first mark was reached she kept in front to the finish and beat the Katrina 4 minutes 24 seconds. the line. The Atlantic raced against the rack was reached she kept in front to the finish and beat the Katrina 4 minutes 24 seconds.

The Wayward had two races on hand. One was in her regular class against the Uncas and the other was a match race with the sloop Lotowana. She simply had to sail over the course because the Uncas and Lotowana withdrew before the races were ended. In the 51-foot class the Altair won another race from the Hussar. After the latter had crossed the finish line she ran to her moorings, but on the way up the harbor she fouled the Tigress and the latter lost her topmast. The yawl Albicore added another flag to her already long string by beating the Katonah 5 minutes 19 seconds.

In Class M the starters were Countess, Cherokee, O'Shima San and Anoatok, This was a good contest from start to finish. The Anoatok led at the end of the first round, her time taken at that point being 143:43. The Countess, sailed by Oswald Sanderson, was next at 145:12. Then came the O'Shima San at 148:12 and Cherokee at 1:47:97. On the second round the Cherokee at 1:47:97. On the second round the Cherokee withdrew and the committee boat had to put another stake boat, which sank. The Cherokee withdrew and the Anoatok and counters made a hot race to the finish. The Countess finished 55 seconds in the lead, but she lost the race on time allowance. The Anoatok was owned last year by Oswald Sanderson, who this season had the Countess built. This is the first time these two yachts have met this season and the old boat won. The yawl Escape won, as her two competitors did not finish.

In Class N the Emprenzi, sailed by Frank Bowne Jones, beat the Oiseau and Alerion. The race was between the first two named and in the end Alfred Peat's boat won by I minute 14 seconds. This is the Enpronzi's second win this year. Through an error the second win this year. Through an error the SPEEDWAY CRACKS AT GUTTENBURG Mrs. Gill Fails to Beat the Record for & Woman Driver.

A pleasant matinée was held at the Guttenburg track yesterday afternoon. While there was nothing of the sensational order, each event on the card was of an interesting charenjoyed the sport. The greatest interest centred in the match between the Speedway cracks, race was for $200. Baylight ruled as favorite until a few minutes before the favorite until a few minutes before the start, when even money ruled. Pearl J. slipped away from the big gelding at the turn in the first heat, and led him by several lengths before the quarter pole was reached. She maintained her position to the head of the stretch, when D. N. Wilbur, who piloted Baylight, made a drive down to the wire and closed quite a gap. But the mare went under the wire easily three lengths to the good. The second heat was practically a repetition of the first. Mr. Grote thinks so well of the performance of the mare that he will enter her at some of
